

Marry or Move on? for Brad Pitt & Angelina Jolie

INTRODUCTION: In this brief evaluation are very accurate guidelines for the eventual outcome in this relationship, even if it seems happy in the beginning. Presently, whether it feels good or bad, it may be an illusion of reality for the true merits of this relationship. We know people don't change, only our perception of them, does the more we get to know them. Just as there are some colors that don't match, there are some people that don't match, nor will we match them. Listening to our advice will save you wasted years, even decades spent with the wrong partner.

Evaluating one sided or shared Attraction, Sexual compatibility, Depth of Intimacy, and Lifelong Commitment, is all covered and more, in the selection, "Full Relationship Analysis". These are areas that we cannot accurately address in this selection.

What should scare you is that you could actually have all of the positive qualities mentioned above and only rate a #1, with all its potentially deadly characteristics! What should this tell you? Dating might be the most dangerous thing you can do in your life, because of its great impact with the short or long term consequences and effects. Is this statement extreme? Not when you mix attraction, great sex, passion, intimacy and turmoil. Did you ever hear of a crime of passion? That would be described in #1.

You say you've got chemistry and you do! When two chemicals are mixed they have either a good reaction or a bad one. When you mix the same two chemicals tomorrow the same reaction will take place, simply because the ingredients haven't changed. Knowing that, what will happen when we mix these same two chemicals 37 years, 9 months, 2 weeks, 3 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes from right now . . . Yah!

If you score a 1 or a 2, somebody's getting hurt, physically or emotionally. The relationship should end immediately, with nothing to discuss or negotiate.

If you score a 3, you can live in regret for potentially 70% of your life; about 50 – 60 years to think about what you could have had in the arena of Love.

If you score a 4 or a 5, it may be good; it's certainly safe, but it could possibly lack some of the goodies listed above, and doesn't guarantee Love for a Lifetime! If your rating is either of these two and you are seriously thinking about staying together, you should then get a Full Relationship Analysis to be sure, as to never regret your decision, as it may lack the adhesive to stay together for the long haul. The cost of an FRA is far less than that of a divorce, or even moving across town or the time off work to do it, for that matter.

Your score is Below in Red:

1 2 3 4 5

1. Someone's life is in danger here. Physical abuse, screaming, kicking, punching, biting, and door slamming is what this relationship is destined for, and could end up with a murder. (i.e. O.J. & Nicole Simpson, Scott & Laci Peterson, Robert Blake & Bonny Lee Bakley). Believe it; All of them felt lucky in love . . .at first!
2. This is a very unsettling relationship where by there's a good possibility someone getting hit or will live in fear of being hit at one point or another. There will be tension and quite consistent frustration of not being able to please your partner and/or frequent misunderstandings. There will be endless nights staring at the ceiling wondering why you stay? If you decide to leave you may ponder whether or not it would be safe, pending your partner's response.
3. This isn't a bad relationship, nor is it a good one. It would be at the level of peace that isn't satisfactory, but may cause you to utter the words, "But no relationship is perfect!" Are you happy with that? Or will you stick it out and see how long it lasts? When it's done, you'll what?, start over with another #3? How many times will you repeat this process? Then, how old will you be? If it was going to get better, it would have by now.
4. No fighting, no arguing, no one gets mad, even if you don't agree. It's a peaceable relationship a fair amount of noticeable compatibility, and all of your friends wished they got along with their partners as well as you do, and you'll frequently talk of how lucky you both really are.

- 5. You may have problems in life, but they certainly won't exist in your little circle of two. This relationship is sublime for all practical purposes, in most aspects of life. You've got a strong enough compatibility to be recognized by others as a hand in a glove type relationship, especially if there's a strong attraction between you. This relationship will also be noted for the two of you thinking on the same wavelength and content and uninhibited by each other, as a result of this union.
